Death brought a sad Christmas to Starlie and Harry Post living with their father and the daughters, Mrs. D. Friends and relatives assembled there Monday, to pay their last tribute of respect. Rev. Raich conducted the services at the church and the body was placed beside that of his wife and son, Walter, in the Prospect cemetery. The family have the sympathy of the entire community. Wm. The persecution of Gypsies recalls the old belief that the Gypsies were cannibals, and the methods by which judicial confirmation of the belief was sometimes obtained. In 1728 45 Hungarian Gypsies were executed on this charge. First racked until they confessed to murder, they were taken to the place where their victims were supposed to be buried and racked again. No bodies were discovered. Therefore they confessed to eating them, and were duly executed. Joseph II. sent a commission down to investigate the case later, and the entire innocence of the Gypsies was proved, but history does not say what happened to the witnesses for the prosecution.

Gypsies are still more or less "persecuted," though in our milder modern sense of the word. And no wonder. A couple of years ago it was stated on official authority that in Hungary most of the serious crimes—murders, kidnapping and robberies—were committed by Gypsies, and very few of the offenders were caught. Gypsies are mighty difficult customers to tackle. When it was proposed in France that all nomads should have identity cards, to be checked at each stopping place, one of them said to a Matin reporter: "But I can't read, and I can't write, and I don't know how old I am, nor where I was born, and I don't remember the names of the places where my children were born, nor their ages exactly. We don't bother ourselves about such things. What can you do with people so astutely ignorant?"

1915, in this city, aged 71 years and 14 days.

His childhood and young manhood were spent on the farm, where he developed that sterling character which contributed to the making of the man in every sense of the word, and directed all the energies and impulses of his future life in the way of truth, honor and uprightness.

He attended college at Westerville in this State, but at the call to arms in his country's need, although yet a mere boy, he threw aside his books and his ambitions and enlisted in Co. C., 133 Regiment, O. V. I. He served his country well, enduring the dangers and hardships of army life uncomplainingly, always answering to roll-call, never shirking his duty, and ever at the front when the bugle sounded the call to battle.

He was honorably discharged near the close of the war, in December 1864, and immediately returned to the peaceful farm life he had left.

Mr Ambrose was united in marriage to Anna Caroline Bennett, Feb. 16, 1869. Five children were born to this marriage, four of whom are now living. Mrs. Ambrose died in 1907.

In 1887 he moved with his family to Hillsboro, where for several years, he was employed in various business enterprises. Since 1900, up to the time of his death, he was engaged in the mercantile business on West Main street.

For many years prior to his death, Mr. Ambrose was a member of the Hillsboro Methodist Church, and also a member of John M. Barrere Post No. 205, G. A. R.

AN OLD TIME PREDICTION

This Grand Poem Was Written By
Mother Shipton, An Old English
Woman More Than 300
Years Ago.

This quaint poem was written by the old English woman more than 300
years ago.

Carriages without horses shall go,
And accidents fill the world with woe.
Around the earth thoughts shall fly
In the twinkling of an eye.
Thru hills men shall ride,
And no horse be at his side.
Under water men shall walk,
Shall ride, shall sleep, shall talk.
In the air men shall be seen
In black, in white, in green.
Iron in the water shall float
As easy as a wooden boat.
Gold shall be found and shown
In a land that's now unknown.
Fire and water shall wonders do,
Enland shall at last admit a foe.
The world to an end shall come
In eighteen hundred and eighty-one.

ears 11 months and 5 days.

ears Jennie, as she was commonly called, became a Christian. That she lived a consistent Christian life, all who knew her well, would gladly testify.

She was stricken with paralysis several weeks before her death. One week after she was stricken, on Sunday morning, although she did not eat food, she expressed a longing to attend the Bible School of which she had been such a faithful attendant. During these last six weeks of illness, she spoke several times of her desire to go home and rest for she was so tired. How sweet must that rest which she promised to be to her now.

At the last, when her heart stress was failing, she said, "Don't leave me back, please don't. Let me go in peace." Shortly after this she said "I am dying." She was anxious to go, only she was sorry to leave her ones. The last word she spoke and one she repeated several times was probably the first word her baby ever uttered—the name of mother.

Tractors Will Not Replace Horses

Despite the increasing popularity of the tractors as shown by the increased sales, the "horse that never grows tired" will not replace the horse entirely. Farmers are rapidly taking up the use of the tractor because of satisfactory experience with the automobile and the gas engine. Glenn G. Hayes, editor American Farming, predicts that the tractor will have an effect upon horse breeding, because the tractor is doing the heavy work and leaving the horse free for lighter work and greater usefulness. The list of the things that the tractor will do is almost unlimited.

PLEA FOR QUIET

So Please Do Not Ding-Dong and Fizz and Spit and Clang and Bang and Buzz, Etc.

Anybody who lives in the vicinity of a noisy railway yard might try writing to the officials of a road a copy of this letter sent to officials of a Dallas railroad office, signed "Unfortunates Who Try to Live and Work and Sleep in the Vicinity:"

"Gentlemen: Is it absolutely necessary, in the discharge of his duty day and night, that the engineer of your yard engine should make it ding dong and fizz and spit and clang and bang and buzz and hiss and bellow and wail and pant and rant and yowl and howl and grate and grind and puff and dump and click and clank and chug and moan and hoot and toot and crash and grunt and gasp and groan and whistle wheeze and squak and blow and jar and perk and rasp and jangle and ring and clatter and yelp and croak and howl and hum and sharl and puff and growl and thump and boom and clash and jolt and jostle and shake and screech and snort and snarl and scrape and throb and crink and jangle and quiver and rumble and roar and rattle and yell and smoke and smell and shriek like—?"

Of course, the officials make reply: "It is."

MURPHY.

The fifth child in a group of twelve, Anna Murphy on a bleak day in January, slipped out beyond the bar and the moaning of the tide. Willing, anxious to go, the life's work done, to meet dear friends and loved ones on the unknown shore. Full of zeal and energy for every form of work here, she spent no idle moments, and rejoiced to run the race of life.

She mourned the loss of power in the past two years that compelled rest and inaction. God was merciful and gave her that wizard potion, the drugless sleep of Time in the city where they sleep away the hours and the day is like the night, for their vision is of other kinds than ours.

On the cool grey of her casket, lilies and roses attested the hurt hearts that mourn. From beautiful St. Marys she was carried to the silent city, whose gates do always outward swing. She will be missed in the busy mart and by the fire side of her home.

Jacob Steel Sayler, son of Jacob Sayler and Martha Brindle, was born at Tarleton, Ohio, Feb., 11th., 1823 and passed to the Church Triumphant April 15th, 1916. He was the oldest male citizen of Hillsboro and had resided here sixty-nine years.

A long and useful life is ended and the crown of glory won at last. In the span of years allotted to him he has passed through many eras of progress in religious and civil life. His school days were limited to a few short years of instruction under anyone who could be secured to direct the District School for a few months during the winter season, and after a limited course of study in the 3 R's and other branches, he went forth into the larger school of life to complete a remarkable education along various lines. His school text-book was the Holy Bible from which he learned not only to read and spell, but to memorize its precious truths. When about fourteen years old, he was happily converted and joined the Methodist Church, where for seventy-nine years, he continued a faithful toiler, till called to his reward.

During most of the time since 1848, he has had some official position in the church and was never so happy, as when he saw the prosperity of Zion in his sister churches as well as in his own. He was one of the promoters of the erection of the present M. F. Church structure in 1863 and has ever been a leader in its prosperity and spiritual life. For forty years he was a faithful class leader and in the years of his prime, held the interest of large Sunday School classes of the young men or women and was the means of leading many of them into the Kingdom. Even to the close of his life, he gave interesting talks on the Bible, which were most helpful, as he had made a life long study of it.

Several years Mr. Mullenix has been a great sufferer, and dependent upon the ministrations of his excellent wife. Seldom has our town known such devotion, self sacrifice, and as has been displayed by this woman toward her suffering husband.

Mr. Mullenix is survived by one son, Hamer, of Kansas, and a daughter who lives in Iowa, neither of whom were permitted to be present at this funeral. He was the brother of Major Ed. TRAGEDY

Mahala Dunham was born at Enon, Clermont County, Ohio, Feb. 8, 1843, and died near Buford, Ohio, March 7, 1916, aged 73 years, 1 month and 4 days.

She was united in marriage with Daniel L. Tice January 25, 1859. This union were born six children, of whom, a son, died in infancy; the surviving are Mrs. L. J. Coffin, Huntington, W. Va., Mrs. J. Campbell, Sardinia, O., William Winkle, Ohio, Isaac, Hillsboro, O. and Edward, Columbus, Ohio. These, and her husband, who survives her, she gave a life time of love devotion, there never being a sacrifice too great for her to cheerfully make for her loved ones.

Beneath her kindly features might indeed read a strength of character and quiet courage that won her a host of life-long friends.

In 1860, at Sharon, Ohio, she, her husband, united with the Christian Church, transferring her membership to the Buford Christian Church within the same year. She lived a devoted Christian life. Her husband and her strength always went out to those who needed for help and sympathy; one of the truest and kindest of neighbors, a most loyal friend to the best of mothers.

He was first united in marriage to Miss Lizzie Hastings who lived but two years after their marriage. Jan. 11, 1875 he was again united in marriage to Miss Mary Kirkhart who survives him. No children blessed this union, but their niece, Mrs. Myrtie Chaney, was a member of their home before her marriage and was loved by them as a daughter. She is now a great comfort to the lone wife in this sad hour of affliction.

He was a devoted husband and there was no place so dear to him as his home. In the forty-one years of married life, theirs was a happy companionship. For some time he had been in failing health and his wife cared for him with loving solicitude. It can be truly said of her, "She hath done what she could."

He was honest, true in every respect, and industrious; a kind neighbor, a good citizen, and above all,—a Christian. His neighbors remember him for his kind deeds in the times of sickness and need.

Forty years ago he united with the Church of Christ at Mt. Olive and was a faithful and consistent member until the time of his death. He was trusting in the promises of his Savior, was ready when the call came, and quietly, peacefully, fell asleep in Jesus.

OBITUARY.

Once more the sad refrain comes to us. We are gathering home by one, one by one.

Verda E. (Smith) Young, daughter of Isaac and Columbia Smith was born near Harwood, 6th, 1873, departed this life at home near Hollowtown, March 1916. Aged 42 years, 4 months 27 days.

In early life under the teaching brother Ruble she was united to the Church of Christ at Pricetown where she has remained until 6 years ago, when she moved her membership to Mt. Washington where it remains. On April 7th, 1894, was united in marriage to Arm Young.

To this union were born 9 children, five boys and four girls; together with the husband, parents, one brother and sister, are left to mourn the loss of a loved one.

Her sickness was of short duration. During the last few hours her suffering was great, but when the end came, she quietly passed into "Sleep none ever wakes to weep."

She was a loving companion, kind and affectionate mother.

In the home circle there is a vacant chair, in the social circle a vacant place which can never be replaced.

Today our hearts are torn and bleeding and we can not understand why this should be. God's ways are not our ways. He knows best and has promised to wipe all tears from that land a little farther on.

Her mother, Mrs. Nannie Sanders.

Mrs. Dempey Sexton is suffering from a fall received Wednesday; femur bone being badly fractured. She has been a sufferer from rheumatism for a number of years and was permitted to wait upon her invalid husband until almost the last of his illness. After an illness of several months duration, he peacefully and quietly passed to the Great Beyond, Thursday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Sexton were formerly of Harwood, but a few years ago they moved to a farm, a short distance north of town. The most sincere sympathy is extended to the grief-stricken wife.

Mrs. Mary Collins died at her home on South street at 10 o'clock last night after a long illness. The funeral services will be held at the home Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, unless other arrangements are necessary on account of the arrival of friends from a distance.

Mrs. Collins was about 80 years of age and was one of Hillsboro's oldest and most respected citizens. A more extended notice will appear later. 3-24

JOHNSON--NORDYKE. 3-28

Ray Nordyke and Miss Esta Johnson stole a march on their many friends by motoring to Hillsboro early Saturday morning and being married at the Methodist Parsonage by Rev. Earl R. Slutz.

Mr. Nordyke made a rather late call on Judge Worley, Friday evening. It was long after the doors of the Probate Court office had been closed, but the genial judge had been forewarned that his services would be required, and the license was soon in the hands of the expectant bridegroom. Mr. Nordyke had also informed the minister of his contemplated early call, and before seven o'clock, the ceremony was performed.

Few young people have so many friends as this couple. The bride is the attractive and accomplished daughter of W. A. S. Johnson of Leesburg, and the bridegroom is well known in business and social circles in New Vienna.

Mrs. Ernest Reynolds died at her home in Boone, Colorado, and the remains were brought here to the home of her sister, Mrs. John Beeson, where the funeral services were held, Sunday at two o'clock.

Her husband and two little girls accompanied the remains here. Mrs. Reynolds was about thirty-five years of age, and her maiden name was Miss Elsie Patterson, she being a sister of Mrs. John Beeson, Mrs. Edward King, Robert and Everett Patterson of this place and John Patterson of Cincinnati.

CALLOWAY.

Mrs. Mary G. Calloway, aged 83 years, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. James Carlisle, March 25th, of pneumonia. The funeral services were held this morning at 10:30 at the home, and interment at Prospect cemetery.

YARGER.

Rebecca Yarger of Brushcreek Township, died at her home, March 26th, of the infirmities of old age. The funeral was held at the Dunkard Church, and interment in the cemetery of that place.

As a chronological detail, it may be stated that Mary Eden Tice was born in Clermont County, Ohio, August 22nd, 1835, and was married to Charles H. Collins at Bethel, Ohio, Nov. 29th, 1855. After nearly fifty years of close and affectionate companionship, she was deprived of her husband, December 28th, 1904. She is survived by one sister, Mrs. William Metzgar of Bethel, Ohio, a daughter, Nellie, two sons, Frank A. Collins of Hillsboro and George A. Collins of Los Angeles, California, and but two grandchildren, John Hitchens Collins of Van Wert, Ohio, and Clara Louise Collins, living with her mother at Delaware.

In passing it is but proper to state that for her age, which at the time of her death was 80 years, 7 months and 25 days, she retained almost to the end, a clear brain and an intense interest in her home and those she loved. Her utter and continued unselfishness in all her acts toward her family and friends are too well known by those she loved to be more than mentioned here. She was an ideal wife and a wonderful mother, using that term in its fullest sense.

APRIL 7, 1916

Elsie Patterson Reynolds was born Aug. 4th., 1880 and died March 23rd., 1916, age 35 years 9 months and 19 days. She was the youngest of six children, born to Cyrus and Rosanna Patterson.

On Nov. 10th, 1909, she was married to Ernest Reynolds. Theirs was a happy marriage, and to them were born two children, a son and daughter, and it is for them to know the sorrow the years will bring in the loss of a loving mother.

When about ten years of age, she was converted and joined the Methodist Church. It can well be said of Elsie Reynolds, that those who knew her best loved her most, for she was of a gentle, retiring disposition, although a happy cheerful one.

What greater eulogy can be written of a woman today, than that she was an ideal wife and mother, and she was ideal in that she was first of all, unselfish, ever placing the desires and pleasures of those she loved, before her own.

Devoted, giving her time, strength and the best of herself, to the care of those she cherished. Cheerfully leaving her childhood home, her sisters and brothers, that she might follow her husband to a distant state for the sake of his health. Uncomplaining, helpful, loving attributes that belong to a Christian Mother and wife with them all unassuming, showing her highest and best qualities in her own home circle.

She is evermore beyond pain and sorrow. Our sympathy goes out to the husband and children, brothers and sisters, who are left to mourn her loss.

SKETCH

Of Life of Capt. Ezra Stevenson--- Funeral Service at Presbyterian Church, Sunday Afternoon.

The funeral services of Captain Ezra Stevenson, were held Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Presbyterian Church conducted by Dr. W. H. Shields and the G. A. R. The following sketch was read:

4-11-16

Ezra Stevenson was born on the 8th., of July 1836, in New Jersey, the fifth child in a family of nine. He began his military training in Trenton, N. J. when quite a young man and came to Ohio in 1858.

In 1861 he went into the Civil War as Lieutenant, and was later made Captain of his company, (Co. K. of the 12th.)

After a few years spent in Greensburg, Ind., he came to Hillsboro in the spring of 1867, and has since been a citizen here, where his life speaks for itself.

He leaves his widow, three children (two sons and a daughter,) two brothers and one sister, remain of the family of nine.

MARY CALLAWAY

Mary Garrett Callaway, daughter of Dempsey and Rebecca Zimmerman Garrett, was born near Centerfield, Ohio, May 5, 1832, and departed this life March 25, 1916, aged 83 years, 10 months and 20 days.

Being the eldest child of a large family, reared on the farm, amid rural surroundings she early learned the rudiments of heart and home making, so essential in her long years of usefulness. She was reared in a Christian atmosphere, and in those early days when churches were few and far between, her father's home was a meeting place of the pioneer Methodists, a home whose hospitable doors were always swung open to the wayfarer. Thus Mrs. Callaway remembered her Creator in the days of her youth, and together with her girlhood companion, became a member of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Centerfield, at the tender age of thirteen years.

She was married to Jas. W. Glenn, April 21, 1852, and together they embarked on life's journey on the Glenn homestead, later the Jas. Carlisle farm. They were active members of the Marshall Methodist Church, and contributed liberally of both time and means to the support of the gospel. To this union were born five children, two daughters, Emma J., widow Geo. W. Haigh, and Martha G., wife of James Carlisle, with whom she has made her home for twenty-four years, and three sons, Geo. W. who resides near Oregon, Mo., Elwood M., of Lajunta, Colo., and Elmer E., of Riverside, Calif., all of whom she has with one brother, Michael Austin Garrett, eighteen grandchildren, and eight great-grand-children survive her.

Living here but a few years, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn and children moved to the west, and located on a farm near Oregon, Mo., but their's was not long to be an unbroken family, for the frail body of the husband was unable to withstand the activities of life, and in Feby., 1873, he died, leaving the mother with five children, for which she cared with all the sympathy and understanding of a loving and devoted mother, keeping them together in happy companionship, inseparable until grown to manhood and womanhood.

In December, 1880, Mrs. Glenn married to Wm. D. Callaway, of Oregon, Mo., but in three short years this companion was called away, and the subject of this sketch was again left in widowhood, returning in a short time to Ohio, where she has since made her home, with the exception of a few years spent with a son in

To this mother, the daughters were kindness itself, and everything that could be done for her comfort and happiness. Quiet in her manner, with a sunny disposition and cheerful smile, thoughtful in her intercourse, she was loved by all who knew her. Our loss is her gain, and there over the River she joyously awaits the coming of her loved ones.

IN MEMORY

Of our darling, Christine Garwood, who passed away April 23, 1915, aged 7 years, 3 month and 5 days.

A little ray of sunshine came to our home one January day; It lingered just a little while, and then it went away—

Gone to a place of happiness, where sorrow and care are o'er;

The sunbeam was our darling Christine, who will return no more.

She was our precious little pet, loved by one and all;

Memory is all we have left of her, for she answered the Master's call.

Sadly missed by Mamma, Papa and baby brothers.

OBITUARY.

JOHN ROUSH

John Roush, son of Jacob and Samantha (Hawk) Roush, was born August 21, 1848, died April 8, 1916. Aged 67 years, 7 months and 17 days. He was united in marriage to Malinda Vance in 1870. On March 15, 1871, her spirit took flight, and John was left alone. On August 9, 1873 he was again united in marriage to Hannah M. Caley. To this union came ten children, four boys and six girls. One boy and two girls were called in infancy, leaving to mourn a wife, three sons, four daughter, three brothers, two sisters, one half brothers, three half sisters, thirteen grand children and a host of friends.

He was brought up in the Reform Church but on January 14, 1889, he united with the Church of Christ at Danville, Ohio, to which body he held his membership until his end. In early life he was an active member, but affliction and other causes kept him away from regular service.

He was a man of sterling integrity, strictly honest in his dealings with his fellow men. John was a man loved by all who knew him; his door was always thrown open and everybody was gladly welcomed.

The Savior wept at the grave of Lazarus—so we weep at the loss of loved ones, but after awhile there will be no weeping; all will be made plain.

Dynamite has claimed another victim in the person of George Cordy, who was instantly killed, on Wednesday afternoon, on the farm of Stanley Smith near Princeton.

Mr. Cordy has for some years followed the business of dynamiting stumps, and was clearing a field for Mr. Smith. He placed the dynamite in position in a stump and then set in the fuse, all the while carrying on his arm a basket containing eight or nine pounds of dynamite.

Mr. Smith was retreating from the stump, his back being to Cordy, when he heard two explosions in rapid succession. When he turned, he saw Cordy lying on the ground near the stump, his body horribly mangled. It is the supposition that when the dynamite at the stump exploded, the concussion caused the dynamite in the basket to also explode, as the arm carrying the basket was blown entirely away.

Another sad feature to the accident is the fact that a wife is left without support, and eight little children are fatherless. Mr. Cordy had only a small farm, and depended almost altogether on his daily wages for support. He formerly lived in Brown County, before he moved to his small farm near the Hoover school house in Salem Township.

RUSSELL 4-28

Word was received here recently of the death of Abraham Roush, of Kansas, who was a former resident of this state, and a brother of Frederick Roush.

Hamer Kesler who was married to Miss Kellis in Columbus last week, is expected home today.

J. W. Russell of Newton, Iowa, formerly of this place died on the 5th. of April, at the advanced age of 89 years. He had been a faithful member of the M. E. Church for 70 years, and an honored Mason for 64 years, and was buried by that order.

Helen Stevens was born December 7th., 1893. She was taken ill March 27th., 1916, and despite all that human wisdom and skill could do for her, died on April 17th., 1916, aged 22 years, 4 months and 10 days.

The daughter of Christian parents, it may be said that she was brought up in the church, and never knew what it meant to be outside of its influence. Very early in life she surrendered her life to Christ and joined the Methodist Church, of which she has been a most faithful and loyal member. Not only did she attend the Sabbath service, but she was one of the most regular attendants upon the mid-week prayer meeting. She was most faithful and regular in her attendance upon the Sunday School.

Helen graduated from the Hillsboro High School in 1911. She was much loved by her class mates, always taking a helpful interest in school activities. She is the first member of her graduating class to graduate into the fuller knowledge and experience of the eternal life.

Deck West, a well known farmer and bridge contractor, committed suicide Sunday morning, by hanging himself in the barn, at their farm about two miles from Rainsboro.

Mr. West was at Bainbridge, Saturday, and those who saw him and talked with him said that he was in excellent spirits. He returned home about five o'clock Saturday evening, and as was his custom, told his family that he was going to Rainsboro, to do some shopping. He left the house at eight o'clock, and at twelve o'clock Mrs. West called up the Rainsboro stores to have Mr. West bring home some household supplies. She was informed that he had not been there.

At midnight she became alarmed at his absence, and asked her neighbors for assistance in locating him. They searched diligently until two o'clock Sunday morning, when they found him hanging in the barn, almost in a kneeling position. His body was warm, and a physician was at once summoned, hoping that he might be saved, but when the physician arrived, he said that Mr. West had died possibly a short time before being found.

That he went to the barn with the intention of committing suicide, was evident by the fact that he had tried to cut his throat with a pen knife, but had missed the jugular vein. Failing in this, he secured a rope from a hayfork, and threw it over a beam and fastening it around his neck accomplishing his purpose of self destruction.

The cause of the act is unknown. Mr. West had just contracted for the sale of one of his farms, and for the purchase of a house in Greenfield, but seemed to be very undecided about the matter as to what was best for all concerned, and it was thought that this might have preyed on his mind and resulted in temporary insanity.

Mr. West is about 56 years of age, and is survived by his wife and an invalid daughter who live at home, and a son and a daughter, who are married and live in that vicinity. The funeral services were at the home this morning, and interment in the Bainbridge Cemetery.

Mr. West was very industrious, besides caring for his four hundred acre farm, he took contracts for concrete bridge building, and met with the County Commissioners frequently with reference to his work. At one time he was nominated for Commissioner on the Republican ticket, but was defeated by J. B. Davis. He seemed to be of a jovial nature, and never inclined to melancholy or morbidness.

Miss Emma who can also sign her name M. D., went to India in 1892 as a missionary under the Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions and remained there until failing health compelled her to return.

Mrs. Templin will be 89 years of age next Wednesday, April 26 and can look back on her long life and her family of honored men and women and say it is a life worth living and well spent.

Geo. E. Rhoads, son of Ira L. and Melissa Rhoads, was born March 9th, 1895. Departed this life, April 8th, 1916. Age 21 years and 29 days.

He leaves a father, mother, one brother and two sisters to mourn the loss of a kind and loving son and brother. Once again we must say "good bye," once again we must weep with those who weep, for death's cold and icy fingers have torn from our grasp one who we loved so dearly.

A life of only 21 short years has been wafted by the angel to the bosom of the Good Shepherd in whose arms, it is now safely reclining, never again to know the sufferings of the body, never again to know the blight of sin and never again to know the broad way that leads to destruction, in which so many are traveling.

Little did we think that death would tear from the home this young man so quickly, who we now look upon as dead, and in our hours of anguish cry, "Oh! why could we not have kept him?" God moves in a mysterious way and he alone knows why.

April 24, 1916.

Knowing that the end was near, he bade his loved ones farewell, gave a clear testimony of his faith in Christ and passed peacefully away. Nine wagons containing gypsies and their camping outfits halted in Fayetteville Friday, and some of the party entering McCafferty's grocery store, secured some provisions. They refused to pay the lady in charge of the store, and she at once notified Mr. McCafferty. He telephoned Marshal Sonner to be on the look out as the caravan was headed this way. Mr. McCafferty and the Marshal of Fayetteville arrived on the next traction, and with Marshal Sonner went to meet the gypsies. They met the party at Hoaglands and Mr. McCafferty demanded and secured $15 for the groceries which they had taken. The Gypsies came on to Hillsboro, but were not allowed to stop here, the officials hustling them out of the city limits. Friday night they camped near Clear Creek on the Chillicothe Pike much to the annoyance of the farmers in that vicinity, who feared they might commit some depredations. Some who saw the occupants of the wagons were inclined to think that they were Mexicans.

The bride wore a beautiful coat suit of blue, and the groom a pretty suit of dark blue.

On their arrival at his pretty farm home Friday, a delicious dinner awaited them and at night, the stormy, unpleasant weather failed to check the enthusiasm of the large organized crowd of young people, married ladies and their husbands, that had assembled to give them an old-fashioned charavari between showers. Candy and cigars, were a pleasant intermission.

The many friends of the bride and groom unite in wishing them a pleasant journey on life's pathway.

David Pulliam, a well known and influential farmer of Salem Township, committed suicide Sunday evening, about six o'clock at his home, a quarter of a mile south of Pricetown, and the cause of the deed is unknown, but the supposition is, that it was due to brooding over ill health.

About half past five Sunday evening, Mrs. Pulliam and a boy who makes his home with them, went out to milk, as had been their custom since Mr. Pulliam's illness. After they left the house, Mr. Pulliam secured a shot gun, went out into the yard, and shot himself in the stomach, dying instantly.

Mr. Pulliam has been confined to his home on account of sickness since the first of the year, but seemed physically better, and in very good spirits. Saturday morning he was at Pricetown and made the statement that he and his wife were going to Hillsboro in the machine Monday, and invited Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Young to accompany them. In the afternoon he was at Lynchburg, and visited his physician, Dr. Chaney, and it is reported that there he learned he had tubercular trouble. Although once he opened the door of the closet where he kept the gun with which he afterward committed suicide.

Oscar Brown, the son of Daniel and Frances Brown, was born Aug. 28th., 1830 in Culpepper County, Virginia, and died Thursday morning, May 11th, 1916 at his home in Hillsboro, Highland County Ohio, being 85 years, 8 months and 13 days of age. He was united in marriage to Rebecca Eliza beth Rogers on Dec. 22nd., 1869. To this union were born nine children, two boys and seven girls. The two boys preceded their father to the heavenly country.

Early in life he united with the Methodist Episcopal Church of which he was a life long member. In February 1888, he brought his church letter to the Hillsboro Methodist Church, of which he has been a member for 28 years.

Mr. Brown was a most efficient carpenter, and many of the finest homes in Hillsboro are premanent monuments of his skill with the tools of his trade.

He was a genuine friend and a splendid neighbor, maintaining in all of his business and social dealings that high honor and chivalry which are the traditions of the fine old Southern stock from which he sprang.

In the home his character shone in its truest light. Somewhat reserved in the presence of strangers, surrounded by his own loved ones, the warmth of his affection was revealed most clearly.

During the months in which he has been stricken with the burden of years his devoted wife and affectionate children have lavished upon him the most loving sympathy and care. They realize that they have lost an exceptional husband and father, and together with a host of friends that Hillsboro has lost one of its best citizens.

Mother McConnaughey united with the Bethany Baptist Church of Rush-town, Ohio, at the age of fifteen years, under the preaching of Rev. Davis Vance. From that time to the close of a long, useful and happy life, she strove untiringly, to learn her Master's will, and to meet in his strength, the opportunities for service with which He constantly honored her, realizing that God's call as a co-worker in His Vineyard was the greatest privilege that could come to her.

She was married to Davis A. McConnaughey, Sept., 30th., 1857. To this union were born six sons and three daughters. The husband, one son and one daughter, having preceded her in death. While we deeply mourn our dear mother, yet in her abundant, abiding faith and trust in God, she has left to us a priceless legacy of a beautiful life, and the Saviors' call at eventide, found her waiting and ready to go.

at the home of the bride on Sunday, June 4th., at high noon, Mr. Franklin Holmes and Miss Faye Jones, both of Lees Creek, Ohio. Dr. J. H. Hollingsworth, officiating.

The following article from yesterday's Enquirer will be of local interest as the unfortunate young man has frequently attended the fairs held here, having an interest in some of the race-horses that have been entered on the Hillsboro Fair Ground track.

Georgetown, Ohio, June 4.—Henry Wahl, a young farmer and horseman, was shot when in front of his father's home near Mt. Orab last night. Wahl and his wife were returning from Mt. Orab in an automobile. The wounded man died six hours later.

The machine was driven up to the barnyard gate. Mrs. Wahl got out to open the gate. While doing this, someone shot her husband in the back with a forty-four-caliber revolver. The ball passed entirely through the body, just above the heart and buried itself in the steering wheel.

The wife thought a tire on the auto had blown out and turned, and so remarked to her husband, who lunged out of the machine with blood pouring from his wound. He ran toward the house, where his parents were awaiting the return of himself and wife.

As he neared the veranda, he fell on the cement walk. He was carried into the house and physicians were summoned. He died at 3 a. m. The murderer escaped. Blood hounds were brought from Loveland. A trail was struck, and in a field in front of the house a man's coat was found, in the pockets of which was an envelope addressed to David Hancock, Bethel, Ohio, and two cartridges.

No further clue to the murderer could be found. Wahl was a peaceable man and had no enemies, as far as is known. He was twenty-eight years old.

Hazel Belle Bragg, daughter of George and Ollie Bragg entered into her earth life, April 3rd., 1890, and was called from it, June 12th., 1916, leaving her faithful, loving, young husband, after a brief six months of perfect wedded happiness. A mother three sisters, two brothers and friends, numbered only by all who had known or met her, are left to remember quiet, rich, full and unselfish life and to benefit by the example of it.

In 1906, Hazel became a member of the Fall Creek Presbyterian Church, and in 1915, she removed her membership to the First Presbyterian Church of Hillsboro. Her Christian life and loyalty to right living must remain as a beacon light to all who knew her. Whenever possible, her place in church and Sunday School was filled.

If an unusually serene and loving temperament, the fruition of her girlhood's love by marriage with its object, made an ideal home, as fault finding, dissatisfaction or complaining was unknown. To mortal eye, the reason for her separation from her loved husband, cannot be seen, but God does not allow such to drift beyond his wise care. So let us bow and sincerely say, "Dear Lord thy will be done."

Longing for an education, she worked and planned, and saved until by her own efforts, she took the High School Course in the Hillsboro Schools, and graduated in 1911. All recognized her merit and admired the truly great spirit, that kept her at her chosen duty till the end was reached.

Dr. David Newton McBride.

Dr. David Newton McBride, son of John and Charlotte McBride, was born near Belfast, Ohio, September 1, 1846, and died in Hillsboro June 29, 1916. He was one of a family of six children, all of whom have now crossed the bar except Mrs. E. J. Yowell, of Allensburg, Ohio.

He came from one of Highland county's sturdy pioneer families and inherited a good physique and strong character. His boyhood and early manhood was spent on the farm, where in common with hundreds of other Highland county boys, he formed the habits and laid the foundation for a useful and successful career.

He was essentially a self-made man with a determined purpose to secure an education and lead in the profession of medicine which he chose for his life work. After his admission in 1868 he first engaged in the practice of medicine at Tranquility, Adams county, Ohio. He remained there about two years when he moved to Rainsboro in Highland county. From 1870 until May 1903, Dr. McBride was one of the most successful and highly respected practitioners in his section of the county and recognized by the medical fraternity as one of the leaders in his profession.

In 1903 he moved his family and came to Hillsboro where he engaged in the general practice for several years until he chose to retire on account of failing health.

It is in Rainsboro, however, and an extensive territory surrounding it, that Dr. McBride will be best and most affectionately remembered. The many anxious inquiries during his long illness from the community he so faithfully served and the presence of his old time friends here to-day is a slight token of their loyalty to his memory and the esteem in which he is held. At no time in his long and active practice among them, covering a period of thirty-three years, did he falter in his devotion to duty or waver in his answer to humanity's call when suffering could be relieved.

On the 29th day of April, 1868, Dr. McBride married Miss Sarah A. Dryden, who for over forty-eight years has been his loving companion and a faithful wife. To this union was born five children. Otto, the oldest, died when only eight years of age; the remaining four, Edith B., wife of Dr. John A. Mercer, of Greenfield; Dr. J. D. McBride, N. Craig McBride and James Ray McBride, all of Hillsboro, together with eight grand-children survive him.

When about twenty years of age, Dr. McBride united with the Brush-creek Baptist Church near his home at Belfast, Ohio. Upon locating at Rainsboro there being no local church of that denomination he moved his membership to the First Baptist Church of Greenfield. He maintained his church connections at Greenfield until moving to Hillsboro when he changed his membership to the First Baptist Church of this city. He was the senior deacon in the church and lived a consistent Christian life.

Many years ago Dr. McBride became a member of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows at New Petersburg, Ohio. He was also a charter member of the Knights of Pythias Order at Rainsboro and exemplified the teachings of these orders in his daily life and conduct.

Dr. McBride represented a high type of citizenship and could always be relied upon in every social and moral question. He was a man of firm convictions and an uncompromising enemy of everything immoral, disorderly or unmanly.

As a citizen, a physician, lodge member and in the church he filled his mission nobly and well. He was a loving husband and a kind parent whose wise counsel and advice and helpfulness will be cherished by his children as long as they live.

FRIDAY, JUNE 30, 1916

In the death of General Ben Piatt Runkle early Wednesday morning, the community has sustained a great loss. The General was a remarkable man in intellectual endowment, and the story of his career reads like fiction. He enjoyed almost equal success in law, journalism, teaching and military service.

The General would have been eighty years old in September. He was born Sept., 3rd., 1836, at West Liberty, O. He was a graduate of Miami University, founder of the Sigma Chi Fraternity and Trustee for many years of Miami.

During the Civil War he was seriously wounded seven times, at one time being left as dead on the field of battle for twenty-eight hours. For bravery in action he was several times breveted. At the close of the war, he was a Brevet Major General. He served for years after the war in the regular army and was retired as Brevet Colonel. Later, he was Professor of Military Science and Tactics at several of the leading Universities and Military Academies of the country. During Governor Harmon's administration, he was Military advisor to the Governor.

General and Mrs. Runkle took up their residence in Hillsboro a number of years ago, dividing their time between Hillsboro and Washington D. C. Their friends here have been legion.

To add to the sadness of the General's death, Mrs. Runkle has been very ill. On this account, it has been impossible to announce definite arrangements for the funeral, as interment is to be made in the National Cemetery at Arlington, near Washington D. C.

Services will be held at St. Mary's Episcopal Church Sunday afternoon at five o'clock and the body will be taken to Washington, via B. & O., leaving here that evening at 6:25.

Highland Countians have been reminded in tragic fashion that the dangers of a swimming season are again with us. While bathing in the waters of Rocky Fork just above McCoppin's Mill Saturday forenoon, John Johnson, the twenty-two year old son of Clem Johnson of near Hyington, Pike County, was drowned.

Young Johnson had been employed on the farm of Mrs. George Sams nearby, and it seems that he and another boy, Elmer Post, were washing a buggy in the creek, and having finished they were enjoying the pleasures of a creek bath; they neither could swim. At about 11:30 while wading, Johnson evidently came to the edge of a fifteen foot offset in the bed of the creek, which is well known to all those who frequent those waters for its depth, and the coolness of the water at that point. He called to his companion who held out to him a branch or stick. Johnson grasped the stick and was pulled to within four or five feet of safety, when it broke and the lad went under. His friend being unable to reach him, became greatly alarmed and ran down stream calling for help. A party of searchers did all in their power to find the boy, but it was not until after the stream had been dragged and fully four hours from the time he had disappeared, that the body was found, under the ledge of a rock nearby.

The coroner was summoned from Greenfield and the body was taken to Tener's Undertaking establishment, immediately. The funeral will be held at Sinking Spring today at 2 o'clock, interment in the Sinking Spring cemetery.

The body of John Johnson, the son of Crayton Johnson, who was drowned Saturday morning while bathing, was brought to O. A. Tener's Undertaking establishment.

Dr. D. N. McBride, one of the County's best known and most highly respected citizens, died at his home here, Thursday morning at 3:30 o'clock, after a long illness.

Dr. McBride was born Sept. 1st, 1840, near Belfast, and was reared in that community. For several years he taught school and then read medicine under Dr. Arthur Noble at Tranquility. After attending lectures in both Cincinnati and Columbus, he was admitted to the practice of medicine in 1868.

He practiced in Tranquility for ten years and then went to Rainsboro, where he entered into partnership with Dr. Garrett, which association continued for several years. Altogether Dr. McBride practiced in Rainsboro and all of that tributary territory for thirty-three years. His sons having settled in Hillsboro, he removed to this place in 1903, but since that time had been in failing health, no doubt, the result of the hardships of a large rural practice in those early days.

Dr. McBride is survived by his wife, who was Miss Sarah A. Dryden, of Winchester, and to whom he was married in 1868; a sister, Mrs. E. J. Yowell, seventy-eight years of age, of Allensburg; three sons, Dr. J. D. McBride, N. Craig McBride and J. R. McBride, all of this place and a daughter, Mrs. J. A. Mercer of Greenfield.

Dr. McBride united with the Baptist Church when about two years of age and has been a life-long member of that denomination. He was also a member of the K. of P. and Odd Fellows Lodges.

Funeral services will be held at the Baptist Church, Sunday afternoon at 2:30 and interment will be made in the Hillsboro Cemetery.

Sunday evening, he came home about nine o'clock, and his wife who had retired, got up and let him in. He kissed her and told her goodbye, saying that his stomach was hurting him and that he would go out into the yard. Shortly afterward, she heard a shot, and running into the back yard, found that her husband had shot himself through the mouth. He expired before help could be secured.

He had been an employe of the C. S. Bell Co., for twenty years, and on the previous day his most intimate friend who worked at his side, noticed that he was unusually quiet. Several times he started a conversation, but Delaney did not seem to care to talk. Others noticed that he seemed to be worrying, and did not appear in his usual good humor. That this must have been the case was evident, when they found pinned to his vest the following note, which indicated that he had contemplated taking his life.

"Nobody knows but me. Here goes nothing. Goodbye." W. H. D.

He leaves a wife and three daughters, aged 14, 16, and 18. The funeral will be held at the house Wednesday.

of his death, which occurred between eight o'clock and noon Sunday morning when he was found. He was fifty-one years old and worked for a number of years in that city, after he left Hillsboro. W. J. Morgan was a gentleman of the old school, and when he departed this life, September 14th, 1916, friends and acquaintances were heard to say, that there was one less of that splendid class of men frequently designated, as the "Virginia gentlemen." True to his class, he was always, courtly, kindly and thoughtful, in all of his dealings with his fellowmen. In the sketch which he wrote himself, there was not one word of complaint, or any feeling of bitterness because of his unjust treatment during the war, but made the statement of the plain facts as though it was a matter of course that he should make this sacrifice for his country. So it was in his daily life, the burdens were carried for himself and others with a sweet spirit of reconciliation to the will of his Divine Master. No one ever heard him say that the cross was too heavy or the burden unbearable. In his own home he was the embodiment of true southern hospitality and it was a pleasure to visit his home, and listen to his kindly conversation. In his life, his children and grandchildren have a wonderful example of a godly man, and his memory should be a guiding star to follow in the future.

Laura F. Fouch was born July 9th, 1831, near Uniontown, Pa., died May 17th, 1916, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Wm. Custer at Hollowtown, O., aged 84 years, 10 months and 8 days. She was united in marriage to S. M. Landess in the year 1856. To this union were born six children, three sons and three daughters, Lorin A., Elva B. Custer, Bartley S., Diantha M. Custer, Nancy S. Fender, Armanas Q., of which four remain to mourn the loss of mother. Two daughters, Diantha M. Custer and Nancy S. Fender having preceded her in death. She also leaves 21 grandchildren. 27 great grandchildren, 1 brother and two sisters and a host of friends and neighbors to mourn her departure. She united with the Church of the Brethren when 19 years old, having been a member of the church for 66 years. She rode horseback carrying a necessary change of clothing from near Pricetown to Elmville, O., to be baptized and attended the Love-feast at that place the same evening "which was held in a barn". She having manifested a chief interest in the church and always remained a loyal, loving, faithful and earnest member, always ready to do what she could.

She has been frail in body for a long time having been very feeble for more than a year. Always thankful for the blessings she received, she bore her afflictions patiently until God called her hence. Her calling away has left a vacant place in the home and heart of her relatives and friends. The church mourns her departure, but finds comfort in the thought that the gates of Heaven always stand ajar for God's children and when pain and suffering have done their part swing wide open and they enter into that rest prepared for the people of God.

Angeline Gibling was born at Sugartree Ridge, O., January 6th, 1848, died Sept 30th., 1916, aged years, 8 months and 25 days.

She was united in marriage to Jan C. Priest, Oct. 3rd., 1867, and to Oct. 3rd., 1916, the day of her termment, was to be the day for celebration of their 49th. anniversary.

To this union were born three sons Davis Allen, living near Harris Ind., at whose home, Mr. and Mrs. Priest were visiting, when Mrs. Priest was stricken; Cornelius W. and Henry C. both of whom reside in Hillsboro.

Mrs. Priest's life was just what pure good woman with a clean would experience. Her home was that had been put in order for the service of her Lord and kept orderly every day. The writer had known her more than one half a century, and believed that in every department in her home life, as wife to an invalid husband, mother to three sons and their families to whom she often referred with pride as excellent men at the head of excellent families. In departing she could say "I have with God's help, given them the best training, I possibly could."

We are further led to believe that the most important epoch of Mrs. Priest's life dated with her acceptance of Christ as her Savior and the Holy Bible as her guide, since following both closely was the rule of action throughout a long Christian experience.

Mrs. Priest had been a most faithful member of the Hillsboro Baptist Church for many years, and her constancy and devotion were so marked as to make her departure a real and sad loss to the church.

As a legacy she leaves to her stricken husband, the cherished memory of a devoted companion. As an inheritance she leaves to her sons, a beautiful example of the highest type of exemplary motherhood. As an example of maternal tenderness, and concern for the daughters who came into her life marriage and her grandchildren, Mr. Priest will ever be remembered with tenderest affection.

To her Sunday School, teacher, class Superintendent and those who were accustomed to greet her from Sabbath Sabbath, she leaves an example of constancy in devotion.

Mrs. Priest was sixty-nine years of age, and is survived by her husband and three sons, Henry and Neal of this place, and David of Harrison. Mrs. Priest was one of the good mothers in Isreal, and will be mourned by her family, friends and neighbors, who loved her for her motherly ways.

A gloom was cast over our community Thursday morning, when it became known that on Wednesday night at 11:30 o'clock Silas Sparks had passed to the Great Beyond at the advanced age of seventy-seven years. His health had not been good since last December, when he suffered a stroke of paralysis, but from which he had sufficiently recovered as to be able to mingle among his friends until Saturday, Sept. 15th, when he was again stricken, and from this he, never rallied, but lingered until the time above stated. He had been a citizen of our town for twenty-one years and was a substantial member of the M. E. Church. Mary A. Roads, the eighth of eleven children of Jacob and Jane Williams Roads, was born near Rainsboro, Ohio, Nov. 19th., 1825, and died at the home of her nephew, James Roads, Oct. 2nd, 1916, aged 90 years, 10 months and 13 days.

She grew to womanhood in the vicinity in which she was born, meeting the extreme trials and hardships of those early pioneer days, of which we can scarcely have a conception.

She united with the Methodist Episcopal Church in childhood, and, for almost eighty years, she had carefully, prayerfully, followed in the footsteps of her Master, doing her duty as she saw it, trusting in Him, who never faileth those who love Him.

Born, lived, died: life's story, told of each of us in three short words! Of the first and last, ever eternal mysteries, we have no control; but how much can be encompassed in that word, lived? Not alone in the number of years, but in the usefulness put in them. For "We live in deeds, not years; in thoughts, not breaths." We should count time by heart-throbs when they beat for God, for man, for duty. "Life is but a means unto an end, that end—beginning, mean, an end to all things, God." This seems especially adapted to Aunt Mary, whose whole life was one of loving service and tender devotion to others. For God, for man, for duty, might well have been her watchword, so faithfully did she perform her services.

Deprived of her father in early girlhood, in those days where even the most meager existence had literally to be carved from forest and field, she early learned self-reliance, and the care for others from the hard school of experience.

Nearly a century of life! What changes she has seen! What visions have been hers! And in these later days, deprived of hearing, unable to converse with her friends, what thoughts must have been hers!

Aunt Mary was the last of her family. Father, mother, six brothers and four sisters have passed beyond the portal, and methinks, today there is a grand family reunion in Paradise.

"There is no death; what seems so is transition."

This life of mortal breath is but the suburb of the life Elysian, whose portal we call death.

The funeral services were held at the Prospect Church Wednesday morning at 19:30, with the Rev. Charles Bennett, pastor of the Hillsboro Methodist Episcopal Church in charge. After the funeral services, the body was laid to rest in the Prospect Cemetery, where many of her kindred are buried.

majority of the redeemed on the other shore. The religion he professed then was not like a loose garment to be cast aside when temptation came, but a living, abiding faith in the Christ, growing stronger and brighter through his long life of over eighty-three years.

In youth, in strong manhood and in old age, as the shadows began to lengthen and the twilight of his life came, there was no darkness in his soul, for he looked forward with joyful anticipation to the house prepared for him in the eternal summerland, where sickness, sorrow, pain or death never comes, and the meeting of hosts of loved ones over there.

Hyman D. Davis of Cleveland died at the Cleveland Hospital, Saturday night, at about 11 o'clock, of an operation performed about ten days ago.

The host of friends who had been inquiring about his condition from day to day, were encouraged to believe that he was improving, but Friday a change for the worse came, and it was then recognized that he could not recover.

Hy. Davis was raised in this County, and as a young man entered the practice of law here. He was Mayor of the Village for six years, and was active in the affairs of the Republican party. By his very nature he was a winner of friends and wherever he has gone and in whatever relationship, men were attracted to him.

He was a man of great heart; of a highly developed social nature; of broad sympathies and Christian idealism. His life in his home was replete with the beautiful, the helpful, the unselfish.

Over twenty years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Davis moved to Cleveland. He soon established a splendid law practice there, and later became identified with the city government in a legal capacity. He was the first State Fire Marshal of Ohio, and under the Taft administration, he was U. S. Marshal for Northern Ohio District.

He was prominent as a lodge man, being Supreme Director of the Loyal Order of Moose, and was also an influential member of The Masonic Order, the Elks Lodge, The Eagles, K. of P., Maccabees and Sons of Veterans. For many years, Mr. Davis was an influential member of the Methodist Church, but for the last ten years of his residence in Cleveland, he has been affiliated with the Pilgrim Congregational Church.

Several years ago Mr. Davis and a group of the leading business and professional men of Cleveland organized the Cleveland National Fire Insurance Co., Mr. Davis was made President. Under his leadership, the success of the new Company has been phenomenal.

Mr. Davis is survived by his wife, who was Miss Lydia Ambrose. The sympathy of the entire community goes out to her in her bereavement. Also a brother, Rev A. H. Davis, of Covington, Ky., and a step-sister, Mrs. V. B. McConnaughey.

The body arrived at Hillsboro on the six o'clock train last night, and was taken to the McConnaughey home on North High Street.

Funeral services will be conducted at the Methodist Church this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, conducted by Dr. R. O. Matthews of Toledo, who was a close personal friend, assisted by the Masonic Order.

Henry Julian and wife, who have been visiting relatives here for several weeks, started for their home at Moline, Kansas, Saturday. On their return trip, they will visit friends in Illinois, Iowa and Missouri.

Dr. and Mrs. William Hoyt celebrated their 48th., wedding anniversary at their home here Sunday. Their daughter, Mrs. W. B. Robinson of Mt. Gilead, O., and their daughter, Mrs. J. W. Myers and her husband and son, of Williamsport, Ohio, and Mrs. Robert Boulware and Dr. W. Maurice Hoyt and families of this place, were present to enjoy the occasion with their venerable parents. During the day, many friends dropped in to extend congratulations.

There is no more highly respected couple in Hillsboro, than Dr. and Mrs. Hoyt. During their long years of residence in Hillsboro, their activities in church, civil and social affairs have brought them into intimate relationship with practically all of our people.

Dr. Hoyt came to Hillsboro in September 1867, and began the practice of medicine. Dr. and Mrs. Hoyt were married at her home at Saginaw, Mich., on November 12th., of the following year, 1868. They came at once to Hillsboro, where they have ever since made their home.

The DISPATCH joins with their host of friends in extending the most cordial congratulations, and the wish that they may live to celebrate many more anniversaries.

Mrs. William Huggins entertained at luncheon and cards, Wednesday afternoon, at which time the announcement was made of the engagement of Miss Isabelle Huggins and Mr. Robert McMullen.

The Huggins home was beautifully decorated for the occasion, the color scheme being yellow and white. In the living room and dining room were great clusters of yellow chrysanthemums gleaming from every nook and corner and mingling their golden glow with the rays of the candles.

Luncheon was served at one o'clock, and at the large table and five small ones hidden in the napkin of one of the guests was a card with the inscription "Robert McMullen and Isabelle Huggins, December 27th., 1916."

Miss Huggins is one of Hillsboro's most popular and attractive young ladies, and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Huggins.

Mr. McMullen, the son of Postmaster and Mrs. John McMullen is a popular young attorney, and is well known in business and professional circles in all parts of the County.

Postmaster R. W. Grandle of Leesburg, died suddenly of heart trouble at his home at Leesburg, Saturday afternoon, at about two o'clock. While Mr. Grandle had been in declining health, he was not considered ill, and his sudden death came as a great shock to his family and the community.

After dinner, he had gone to the barn to feed and attend to some stock and do some other work, and upon returning to the house he sat down in a chair to rest. Without having made a struggle of any kind, he was found dead shortly afterwards.

Mr. Grandle was about sixty-seven years of age, and had been Postmaster at Leesburg, for something over two years. Prior to this appointment he was one of the leading concrete contractors in the County. He is survived by his wife and four children.

Hillsboro's oldest citizen, Rev. Milton P. Zink passed away at his home here last night at 8:30 o'clock. He had been gradually failing for weeks, though he was able to be up and about the house and his mind was as clear as crystal up to the time of his departure.

This venerable father in Israel was the oldest member of the West Ohio Conference, having been presented with the Conference cane last September. In 1848 he entered the Ohio Conference, which became a part of the old Cincinnati Conference in 1852, he being the last surviving member who was present at the time of that re-organization. Then these two Conferences some years ago, became the West Ohio Conference.

Rev. Zink was born July 26th., 1825, in Union Township, this County, and for forty consecutive years his active ministry was spent in South Western Ohio.

He was regarded as one of the strong preachers and executives of his denomination and in those early days and almost beginnings of Methodism in these parts, his experiences read like fiction.

He was notable for his courage in the presentation of Gospel truths and blessed with a powerful physique, he labored early and late up and down the boundaries of all this territory for these many years.

He was one of the most actively interested men in the Old Hillsboro College, having been one of the founders and liberal supporters. The condition of that institution never ceased to be of concern to him.

Since his retirement, Rev. Zink and family have lived in Hillsboro for twenty-four years, his wife having died a short time after they came to Hillsboro. Since then his daughter, Miss Lavinia, has been with him and a constant source of comfort to him in his declining years.

There were nine children in the family, five sons and four daughters. Of these, four sons and one daughter are living: H. P. Zink of Elmwood, Ill., J. W. Zink of Orange Grove, Miss., W. B. Zink of Pittsburg, Pa., P. B. Zink and Miss Lavinia, of this place.

Funeral services will be held at the Methodist Church Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, conducted by the pastor, Rev. Charles Bennett.

The family request that no flowers be sent.

In the glories of a ripe old age, crowned with a life of usefulness and honor, Milton P. Zink passed to his reward at his late home on Pleasant Street, Hillsboro, Ohio, on the evening of Thursday, Nov. 16th., 1916, in the ninety second year of his age.

He was born near Hillsboro, Ohio, July 26th., 1825, and was 91 years, 3 months and 21 days old. He was the son of Enoch and Mary Foster Zink.

He was married to Mary Beasley, September 26th., 1855. To this union were born nine children; five sons and four daughters; four sons and one daughter surviving to mourn his loss. The wife and mother, having died soon after their removal to Hillsboro, to make their home after his retirement from the active ministry in 1890, Miss Lavinia, his only surviving daughter, has been untiring in her devotion and care of him until his departure to the better land. The sons who survive are H. P. Zink of Elmwood, Ill., J. W. Zink of Orange Grove, Miss.; W. B. Zink of Pittsburg; and P. B. Zink of this city.

Brother Zink was converted at Dunn's Chapel, Union Township, Highland County, when he was about fifteen years of age. He was given ex-orter's license by the Rev. M. G. Purkhiser, on the recommendation of the Leaders and Stewards of the Dunn's Chapel society, of the Highland Circuit, of the Ohio Annual Conference, Aug. 31st., 1848. He was given Local Preacher's License, after proper examination, by the Highland Circuit, at the Marshall Quarterly Meeting, August 25th., 1849; John F. Wright, Presiding Elder. He was admitted into the Ohio Conference in the fall of 1849 and was appointed to Aberdeen Circuit. He served at Aberdeen and Georgetown in the Ohio Conference. In 1851, when the Cincinnati Conference was organized, he was appointed to Batavia, after which throughout his ministry he served charges in the Hillsboro, Ripley and Georgetown Districts, in several of the charges having the distinction of having two terms of pastoral labors.

In 1851, Brother Zink was ordained deacon at Springfield, Ohio, by Bishop Thomas A. Morris, while yet a member of the Ohio Conference. In 1853, Brother Zink was ordained Elder, when the Conference, now the Cincinnati Conference, was in session at Hillsboro, by Bishop Edmund S. Janes.

Brother Zink was actively interested in the old Hillsboro College, having been one of its founders and supporters.

Brother Zink's active ministry of over forty years among the churches in Southern Ohio was abundant in Evangelistic labors and was rewarded with great success in revivals and ingathering of souls into the Kingdom.

The sudden death of John Sinning on the morning of the 11th., inst., was a shock to hosts of old friends in the community in which he lived, who with the mourning relatives have the sympathy of a large circle of friends.

Hillsboro, Ohio, Tuesday, November 21, 1916

Nellie A., the daughter of Sanford and Harriett Creed, was born near Hillsboro, Ohio, Oct. 27th., 1877, and passed through the gates leading to the larger life on Nov. 10th., 1916, after a continued illness covering a period of more than five years.

When but a little girl of only six years, she was left motherless and the mother heart of Aunt Sarah Doggett was touched and Nellie was taken into her home where she shared the comforts and kindnesses until a young lady of nineteen years.

On June 24th., 1903, she was united in marriage with Thomas H. Roads, and a more constant companion he could not have found, sweet in spirit, patient in service and suffering, hopeful even unto the end of life's pilgrimage that the Heavenly Father might spare her to her family.

Four children came to bless the home, Lucile, May, James and George, and how dearly she loved them, and how much they loved her. Surely her children shall rise up to call her blessed and her husband praiseth her.

No sacrifice was too great or costly for him to make in her behalf, in all these many months of suffering how worthily he waited to minister unto her. May the Spirit of the Christ bear tidings of peace to his heart.

For a number of years, Mrs. Roads felt a faith in the living Christ, and on Tuesday was admitted into the Highland M. E. Church, and received the ordinance of baptism, the same being administered by the speaker, when a peaceful smile passed over her troubled face, the Peace that God alone can give, when the storms are turbulent and the waves roll high.

Her passing out was peaceful, like as the weary slip out into the slumberland even so she left us.

She was also a Charter Member of the Royal Neighbors, of the Highland Society, and was held in high esteem by its members.

She leaves to mourn her loss, father, one sister, Cora McConnaughey, of New Vienna, one brother, W. B. Creed of Peebles, husband, four children, and a host of friends, whose lives have all been made better by having known her.

Funeral services were conducted by her pastor on Sunday, Nov. 12, at 2 p. m. from the M. E. Church, after which the body was placed to rest in the beautiful cemetery near by.

Frank Mullharron died at his home at Peebles, Friday, of apoplexy. Funeral was held in St. Mary's Catholic Church, yesterday morning. Interment in Catholic Cemetery.

Miss Margaret E. Ellifritz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Ellifritz of 426 West Marion Street, became the bride of Herschel D. Fawley of Hillsboro, Ohio, at a pretty wedding at the home of the bride's parents at 8 o'clock last night. The ring ceremony was conducted by Rev. W. W. Daup of St. John's Episcopal Church. Miss Ellifritz, who was attired in white silk net over taffeta and carried a bouquet of roses, was attended by a sister of the bridegroom, Miss Clarice Fawley of Hillsboro, who wore pink taffeta and carried a bouquet of chrysanthemums. Mr. Fawley was supported by Edward Ellifritz, brother of the bride. The bridal party assumed their positions before the minister while the "Lohengrin" march was played by Miss Pearl Klein. The bride's bouquet was caught by Miss Emma Streggo. The home was prettily decorated in pink and white, corresponding to the colors worn by the bride and the bridesmaid. Elizabeth Putee, colored, thirty-six years of age, who resided in Springfield, died at that place, Sunday and the remains were brought here for burial, Tuesday. She was a native of Hillsboro, her name being Elizabeth Stribling, and had relatives and friends here.

Our popular "hello girl," Miss Edna Morris, was united in marriage last week to Mr. Throckmorton, of Samantha. We extend our congratulations.

Tuesday afternoon, Jacob Chaplin had a narrow escape from death. He is a lineman of the Hillsboro Telephone Company and had climbed a pole near the Globe Chair Factory to make some repairs, and while at the top of the twenty-five foot pole, where he was braced by means of a safety strap around his body, the pole broke, and he went down with it, the pole falling on him. He was unconscious when taken from beneath the pole, and it was thought that he was seriously injured.

A physician was called and rushed him at once to the hospital, where it was found that he had a deep cut in the back of his head which required several stitches and that his right shoulder was badly bruised. His injuries are healing nicely, and it is thought that he will be able to be out in a few days. Considering the distance that he fell, and the fact that the pole fell on him, he certainly had a miraculous escape.

Miss Mary Frost of Norwood recently announced to her friends that she had been married for a year to Frank Williams of the same city. This came as a great surprise to her Norwood friends, and also her many friends here, as she has visited this place within the time mentioned and never intimated that her name had been changed. Mrs. Williams formerly lived here, and is a very attractive young lady, and Mr. Williams is a young business man of Norwood.

Veteran Dies.

William Boyle, seventy years old, a veteran of the Civil War, died suddenly of heart trouble at his home on S. High Street, last night at about ten o'clock. For some time Mr. Boyle had been complaining of not being in his usual health, but yesterday he was on the streets, talking to his friends in his usual jovial manner.

Last night, complaining of pains in his throat and chest, he called at the home of his neighbor, Dr. Wm. Hoyt, who gave him some medicine and Mr. Boyle returned to his home. In ten minutes, his daughter, Miss Hazel, called to Dr. Hoyt that her father was dying, and just as the Doctor entered the door, Mr. Boyle expired.

For several years, he was a sufferer from heart trouble. Just a few months ago, his wife passed away. He is survived by his daughter, Miss Hazel, who lived with him, and two sons. The funeral arrangements will not be made until the arrival of the sons, one of whom lives in Iowa.

Miss Onie Davidson and Othie Landess of Hollowtown, were married at the residence of and by Rev. Foust. Only the immediate families and Miss Cecil Wardlow were present at the wedding.

Mrs. Dr. O. R. Eylar passed away Saturday afternoon. She had been in poor health for several years, but her last illness was of short duration; she was a woman loved by all and to know her, was to love her. Funeral from the home, Monday morning, conducted by Rev. J. H. Davis, interment at Locust Grove.

The community was saddened yesterday morning by the death of Mrs. Ellis Pence, an estimable woman, who has spent the greater part of her life in or near Hillsboro.

Mrs. Pence for some months has been a sufferer, but she and her friends thought that her condition was due to the nervous strain she endured during the illness and death of her husband about a year ago.

In October her son, Lieut. Harry L. Pence, of the U. S. N. came home on a visit to his mother, and realizing that she was very ill, persuaded her to go to the Highland County Hospital for treatment.

Saturday, Mrs. Pence's condition became more alarming and a specialist was called. He concurred with the local physicians in the opinion that there were but few chances of her recovery, and the son, Lieut. Harry Pence, who was then at sea, was notified by wireless of his mother's serious condition. He answered by wireless from the ship that he would come at the earliest possible hour, and every effort was made to prolong her life.

Wednesday evening, another telegram was received from Richmond, Va., stating that Lieutenant Pence had reached land and was enroute to Hillsboro. This news seemed to revive Mrs. Pence for a time, but she died Thursday morning at two o'clock, the son not being able to reach Hillsboro until 4:15 yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Pence was about sixty-two years of age, and was born on a farm a few miles south of Hillsboro. She has been a life-long and active member of the Methodist Church. Her body was taken this morning to the home of Dr. and Mrs. William Hoyt, close friends of the deceased, and the funeral services will be held at the Methodist Church, tomorrow, Saturday afternoon, at two o'clock.

“Howard McQuitty, the fourteen year old son of Mr. and Mrs. James McQuitty, was the victim of a peculiar accident recently.

Young McQuitty, like most boys, carried a number of articles in his pockets, among them being a knife and a 22 caliber cartridge. In striking the articles together in his pocket the cartridge was exploded, and the ball lodged in the thigh. The ball buried itself about one inch. A physician was called who probed the wound, and extracted the ball.

No serious results are expected from the wound, but it should be a lesson to all boys, not to carry cartridges in their pockets.”—Sardinia News.

The death of Mrs. T. M. Watts at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning, concerning which brief mention was made in our Tuesday's issue, brought sadness into many homes. Her illness was of such short duration that many scarcely knew of it until the sad announcement of her death became current.

Mrs. Watts typified all the elements of an ideal Christian mother, and those upon whom she has showered benefactions all through her active, helpful life, are legion.

Announcement was first made that the funeral would be held yesterday afternoon, but owing to the fact that Mrs. J. W. Watts, who was visiting in Texas, missed connections at New Orleans, services were delayed until this morning at 11 o'clock.

At the services, conducted by Dr. Charles Bennett, the following sketch was read:

MARY McCOPPIN WATTS

Quietly and peacefully, Mary M. Watts slipped away from among the circle of her loved ones at her late home on East Main St., Hillsboro, Ohio, at eleven o'clock Tuesday morning, Nov. 28, 1916.

Mrs. Watts was the daughter of Wm. H. and Mary McCoppin, and was one of eight children, two of whom, J. A. McCoppin, of McCoppin's Mill, this County, and a sister, Mrs. W. E. Lucas, of Hillsboro, survive her.

She was born near Carmel, Ohio, September 14, 1845, and entered into her reward at the age of 71 years, 2 mos. and 14 days.

She was united in marriage to Judge T. M. Watts, at the home of her parents near Carmel, Ohio, Dec. 27, 1865, by the Rev. J. L. Craig. To this union were born four children: J. W. Watts of Hillsboro; W. V. Watts of Waverly, Ohio; C. A. Watts of Peebles, Ohio; and Mrs. J. E. Ware of Lynchburg, Virginia. Besides these, there are six grandchildren in these families, who, together with Father Watts, sit in the shadows to-day in the family circle, which, for the first time, has been married and covered by death.

Her early life was spent in the happy environs of the family homestead, and her entire life was spent in Highland County, the last eleven years of which was enjoyed in the gloaming of a most beautiful day of marital happiness in companionship with her husband which lasted over fifty years; to be exact, fifty years and eleven months.

Mr. Kibler is a son of Mr. and Mrs. William Kibler of Lynchburg, a young, progressive farmer of wide acquaintance.

Elvira, daughter of Geo. P. and Nancy McCurdy Tener, was born on the 8th., day of June, 1833, in Adams County, Ohio. Departed this life Nov. 27th., 1916, at Peebles, O., aged 83 years, 5 months and 19 days.

Peter Noah Wickerham and Elvira Tener were married on the 15th, day of May 1856 at Locust Grove by Rev. Boswell. To them were born six children, three sons and three daughters, Oliver C., Nancy Eva, Sara Jane, Martha T., Peter Ammon, and Phillip Sheridan, all of whom are living with ten grand and three great grandchildren.

Elvira Tener united with the M. E. Church at Locust Grove, Ohio, when a girl of fourteen, a faithful adherent to its teachings through a period of seventy years; a member of the W. C. T. U. from its organization, and an active worker in the Crusade, which swept over the country in the 70's, her life was associated with movements that seek to make the world better and purer. She served her country during the Civil War, helping scrape lint and prepare bandages for wounded soldiers, all the while having the care of her family of three children, and the management of the farm, in her husband's absence at the front.

Her parents were pioneers of Ohio, and dearly she loved to talk of the dear old days when they spun and wove, and enjoyed the simple pleasures of the pioneer.

The traits most dominant in her character were those of motherhood and homemaker. Not only the six children given her, who had the privilege of calling her mother, but the motherless brothers of her husband received the kind ministrations of her hands, as well as an orphan from the Children's Home.

Upright in character, staunch in principle, unswerving in duty, unfaltering in purpose, she wrought, and like the virtuous woman of the Bible, her children rise up and call her blessed.

Since the passing away of her husband fourteen years ago, she has lived a quiet retired life, yet ever interested in the activities of the world and the making of history.

John Thomas Conoway, son of Mar-enda and Nimrod Conoway, was born on Sams Creek, Caryl County, Mary-land, May 10th., 1830, departed this life December 10th., 1916, aged 86 years and 7 months.

In 1836, he, with his parents moved from Maryland to this county and set- tled near the place he lived at the time of his death.

In 1860, he was united in marriage to Miss Sophia Hammond. To this union were born two children, James Nelson, who preceded his father to the Great Beyond twenty years and Ida Florence Lovett, of Hillsboro.

In 1863, when war was raging, he took his place in the ranks of the boys in blue to stand for what he felt was right and to protect his country.

Seventy-two years ago in a school house that stood near Conoway Chap- el, he enlisted in the army of the Lord, and gave his soul to God, since that time he has spent many happy days walking in the sunlight of God's won- derful love. His home was always open to the ministers who found a glad welcome. He enjoyed the company of God's people until last Sunday he went to join that unnumbered host in the spirit world. His delight was in doing the will of God. His last testi- mony a few nights ago was, "I start- ed for Heaven upwards of seventy years ago, I am not tired of the way yet, its growing brighter, some of these days I am going over home."

He leaves a wife, one daughter, eight grandchildren, five great grand- children, six sisters, five brothers and a host of friends to mourn their loss, and await the call that he has answer- ed.

Good Resolutions

I will try to be a lifter, not a leaner; an encourager, never a discourager; lighten and share other people's sorrows; start songs and rejoicings, not complainings; make the world a little sweeter place to live in; keep in mind the will of God; make sunshine in life's shady places; see the bright side of everything; be clean in mind and body, working patiently, industriously and honestly for a living; earning a spotless character, so that I can look up, not down, and meet death's coming with a fearless smile; endeavor not to run away from my weaknesses, but bravely fight them out; be glad of life; have hope and faith in everybody; try to live without hate, jealousy, temper and envy; avoid speaking critically and bitterly, repeating only the good I hear; love because I must, give because I cannot keep; doing for the joy of it; cheerful in disappointments, charitable toward the erring and fallen; protect helpless animals; do as I would be done by; smile more and frown less.

Christmas Legend

The legend of St. Boniface and the first Christmas tree has been beautifully told. The scene lives before us—the wintry night, the swelling hillock crowned with the great oak tree, the “thunder oak,” sacred to the pagan god Thor; the tongues of ruddy flame, the ranks of white clad warriors, women and children facing the altar; the hoary high priest and kneeling child, the victim doomed to die by the blow of the hammer, a sacrifice to Thor, the hammerer.

Then the coming of Boniface, the blow from the hammer turned aside by the cross, the rescue of the boy, the fall of the oak beneath the mighty blows of the apostle, the story of Jesus simply told and how sin, not human life, is the sacrifice he asks.

“And here,” said the apostle as his eyes fell on a young fir tree, with its top pointing toward the stars, amid the divided oak—“here is the living tree, with no stain of blood upon it, that shall be the sign of your new worship.”—Parish Tidings.

Into this happy home came three babes to brighten and bless. One died in infancy—only a bud in the home for a few days, then transplanted to bloom in Heaven. The other two, under the teaching and influence of that mother who stood for all that is pure and noble in womanhood, stand as monuments of love and virtue to her memory.

For three score years she has gone in and out among us. Her life has truly been an open book to be read by all men. As she seemed, so she was.

"All things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so unto them," was the rule of her life.

Mrs. West was a woman of sterling qualities, conscientious in all her transactions with humanity. The hungry she fed, the needy she helped, the fallen she tried to lift up again.

List to the gingle of the sleigh bells
With merry Xmas chiming in
Our hearts with rapture swells
As thus Xmas is ushered in.

While the Yuletide Season draws near
And all hearts are filled with joy,
We still cherish the memory so dear
Of little Paul, our darling boy.

Lovingly dedicated to Paul Vincent
Sonner, son of James L. and Ethel E.
Sonner, born July 10th., 1909, departed this life Xmas Day, Dec. 25th., 1912, aged 3 years and 5 months.
